Clothes wear longer

The Eden

Clothes, blankets and linens wear out long before their time if they are scrubbed and rubbed by hand or slaked around in poorly designed machinery.

Washed by an Eden, they are gently dipped up and down through hot suds in the same ideal way women use to wash a bit of lace or silk. Felling through the bubbling hot water and soap countless times, they are perfectly cleaned without hard labor, without rubbing or wear and tear, and at surprisingly low cost.

The regular business meeting of the Woman's club will be held in Howland hall Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 2:30 p. m. sharp. The program for the afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. O. C. Ashton of Rutland. Mrs. Ashton has perhaps the most extensive collection of plush and fur that it is today than any other one person. The committee asks each one to make a special effort to attend this meeting and thus show their appreciation to Mrs. Ashton for this program. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Marion Keeler of Burlington, Vermont's famous young coloratura soprano, will give a recital, assisted by Miss Marjory Crabbe, interpretative dancer, at the Barre opera house Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, under the auspices of the music and art department of the Barre Woman's club, and the recital promises to be one of the finest musical events of the season in Barre. Though but 15 years old, Miss Keeler has gained such approval from critics that she has been privileged to sing with some of the best soloists of the country. Tickets are 50 cents each to any part of the house. Ticket sale at box office Saturday, Nov. 8.

Car after car passed through the city this morning en route to Hanover, N. H., as did many more from Barre that were filled to capacity with football enthusiasts. At Hanover this afternoon Colgate, the college team which has not been defeated this year, meets Dartmouth on her home grounds. This is one of the most important college games of the season, and added interest comes to the Barre fan because the two teams since a player from both towns will undoubtedly figure in the game. "Jim" Laird of Montpelier is sure to appear in the backfield for Colgate, and John Gordon, Jr., may appear in the Dartmouth line. These men formerly played against each other in high school teams a few years back.

A city realty sale of more than usual interest was the transfer yesterday afternoon by Mrs. H. O. Worthen of her large residence property at 19 Keith avenue to Dr. J. A. Wark, who lives for residential and office purposes. The house was erected by the late Dr. H. O. Worthen and is one of the best in the city, being two stories and a half high and of splendid architectural lines besides being well finished. With it goes a large lot on which the house stands, with lawn; but the vacant land on the opposite side of the street is retained by Mrs. Worthen. Dr. Wark, who recently returned from war service in France, will soon resume the practice of his profession in Barre, using part of his residence for offices. Mrs. Worthen will occupy the second story apartment which has been occupied by G. Herbert Pape and his sister, Miss Alice Pape; and the latter have taken the residence at 9 Keith avenue, on the same side of the street and nearer North Main street, expecting to occupy their new home about Nov. 15. Mr. Pape will utilize part of the house for office purposes, moving his insurance business from the Gordon block and also having his office there as supervisor of the U. S. census for the second Vermont district.

Animated over the thought that their team had won the afternoon game, Spaulding students assembled in the school chapel last evening to assist in the celebration of the victory, as well as to enjoy the novelties of the Halloween ball. Everyone was masked when they entered the hall, to be greeted with the sight of 12 couples forming dancing pretty folk dances under glimmering lights. The students then joined in a grand march, led by Coach Robert Ross and Miss Eva Smith, members of the faculty. Then it was that judges decided to award to the persons having the best costumes the small money prizes. Miss Ruth Wyllie and Gwendeth Radd, having the same costumes, divided first and second prizes equally, while Melvin Wright secured third prize in an Uncle Sam outfit. For further diversion a potato race was run by several groups of students, causing considerable laughter and amusement. Miss Helen Roscoe read a ghost story very interesting to the student body, after which all turned their attention to the dance music of Reardon's orchestra. Shortly before the orchestra finished for the evening, Barton Bolt, who is leaving this city and the school, appeared on the stage for a few minutes in his usual form as a routine dancer.

EAST MONTEPELIER

Miss Abbie Arbuckle and Harold Clark Married.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Arbuckle Saturday morning, Oct. 25, at 10 o'clock, when their youngest daughter, Abbie Ruth, was united in marriage to Harold O. Clark, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Clark, Rev. J. B. Reardon of Barre performing the ceremony in the presence of the parents of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends of the bride. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bean. Both young people are graduates of Goddard seminary. Mr. Clark in the class of 1916 and Mrs. Clark in the training class of 1919. They are highly thought of among the young set of East Montpelier. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served, the happy couple leaving amidst a shower of rice and confetti for a short automobile trip. On their return they will reside on a farm recently purchased for their future home.

There will be an entertainment and box supper at grange meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 5, by the children of the village school. The program and box supper will be open to all. The proceeds will be divided between the grange and the village school.

HARDWICK

Napoleon Martell has moved from his farm on Bull's mountain into a tenement in one of Lydia Johnson's houses on North Main street.

Harold Adams, who has been employed in Clark's garage for some time, is now employed in the Johnson garage. On account of one case of scarlet fever in the village, which broke out last Monday, it was decided advisable to postpone the annual masquerade by the scouts to Nov. 7.

J. Leo Johnson has rented the ground floor of the laundry building as a storage room for autos and a wide door driveway is being built to allow the cars to be driven into the building.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kimball are away on a vacation and Will Gove of Bradford has charge of the store during their absence. Mrs. Gove and daughter are here with Mr. Gove.

A large delegation of Eastern Star ladies from the local order were in Johnson Thursday, attending district meeting.

Miss Mabel Wilson has gone to Highgate to teach French and Latin in the high school in that place.

The annual sale and supper given by the United Workers of the Congregational church Thursday afternoon and evening, drew an unusually large number of buyers and the proceeds of the sale and supper amounted to $135. The scout orchestra furnished music during the supper hour. The parlor was decorated with a novel manner and the fish pond booth attracted a great deal of attention from young and old.

Despite the inclemency of the weather the annual rummage sale for the benefit of the hospital is proving a big success. A large amount of canned goods have been donated the hospital during the sale.

Albert A. Turner of Craftsbury died at the local hospital of pneumonia on Oct. 28.

Mrs. Jennie Hitchcock is quite seriously ill at her home on Cottage street.

"Million Dollar Doll in Paris."

One of the new musical shows of the season comes to the opera house next Tuesday, when Harvey O. Orr presents his brand new production of the "Million Dollar Doll in Paris."

This is a continuance of the musical comedy series of the "Doll" shows with an entirely new plot, music and production. Mr. Orr has spared neither time nor expense in making this third edition the most pretentious of its predecessors.

Act one finds the "Doll" in Col. Barrington's home in New York preparing for her voyage to Paris, which takes place in the second act, a big ocean liner. Act three tells of the strange adventures of "Dolly" in Paris, showing a wonderful scene of the Folies Bergeres and Paris by night.

The company, numbering 40 people, includes a bevy of beautiful girls in some of the latest Parisian creations, and there is a world of fun and good music. Some of the most tuneful song hits are "Along the Moonlit Way," "Girls, Girls, Girls," and the Tiddle-de-Wink Trot—adv.

"I guess my nerves got out of kilt first. I worried a lot, and seemed to get tired easy. I lost my appetite. I was overtaken with dizzy spells, my eyes got blurred, and I soon found I had to stay home from work. I didn't do any housework, but the rest didn't do any good."

"I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist but my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order, my breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all, the terrible pain before your Dr. True's Ellixir was brought in to me by a neighbor."

"After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order, and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Ellixir worked. I am working every day now, getting stronger and enjoying my appetite. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Ellixir."

"The children sometimes eat things which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Ellixir and find trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right.
